 Sch. Widgeon, 600 fresh mackerel.

HAVE STRUCK THE SCHOOLS.

Cape Shore Fleet Met the Mackerel Off Sambro

EARLY TUESDAY MORNING.

All the Fleet There and Several Hauls Were Made.

Good news at last from the Cape Shore!

The TIMES is able to state from the best of authority that the Cape Shore fleet has struck the fish.

The fleet met the schools off Sambro on Tuesday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock and practically every vessel was there. Boats were out in all directions and many sets were made. A goodly number of hauls were made at that time.

From the news received, it is evident that the fleet has made a start toward getting fares, and all hope that they may be able to keep with the schools and get good trips.

BREAKS THE RECORD.

Sch. Olymia Now Holds Banner for Largest Rips Stock.

The skippers of the Rips drifting codfishing fleet have been smashing records right and left of late, but the trip of sch. Olympia, Capt. Edward Nickerson, which arrived Saturday will probably stand for some time to come. The vessel weighed out 67,000 pounds of salt cod and stocked the big sum of $2681, which is the largest ever made by any vessel in this branch of the fisheries. The high line share was $127.40, which is also one of the largest, if not the very largest ever made in this line. Capt. Nickerson is one of the leaders of the Rips fleet and has made a big season's work thus far.

Has an Extra Large Fare.

Sch. Tacoma, which arrived Saturday and hailed for 55,000 pounds of halibut, turns out to have even more than this large amount, and it now looks as if Capt. Nickerson's craft would weigh out over 70,000 pounds of these fine fish in the best of condition. This will mean the banner stock and share of the season in the halibut fishery for Capt. Nickerson and his crew.

Halibut Sales.

The fare of sch. Agnes sold to the New England Fish Co. at 9 cents per pound for white and 7 cents for gray. The prices paid for halibut recently are certainly fine for this time of the year, and it is some time since prices like the above have been paid for halibut in May and June, as generally about this time there is a cut instead of a raise, as was the latter case last week.

FIRST ARRIVAL FROM THE CAPE SHORE.

Sch. Mary E. Harty Has Big Mackerel Trip at Boston.

FINE FRESH MACKEREL FARES AT NEW YORK AND NEWPORT THIS MORNING.

List of Catches by Cape Shore Fleet and Important News of Mackerel to the Southward.

This is the banner mackerel morning of the year thus far, there being five fresh fares at Newport and a big fresh fare at New York, while at Boston are two big fresh and salt fares, the first from the Cape Shore. To add to this, the most encouraging reports from the big fleet on the Cape Shore have been received in private advices, and a big body of mackerel is reported by reliable authority extending from Navesink to Shinnecock.

The first arrival from the Cape Shore came Saturday, when sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Eben T. Lewis, arrived at T wharf, Boston, with a big fare, 300 barrels salt mackerel and 250 barrels of fresh mackerel, thus winning the honor of being first home from the Cape Shore.

Last year the first fare, that of sch. Constellation, arrived on June 4, so Capt. Lewis is one day ahead of last year's record.

Yesterday the second trip of the season from the Cape Shore reached Boston, the lucky craft being sch. Marguerite Haskins, Capt. Ralph Webber, of this port. She has 217 barrels of salt mackerel and 270 barrels of fresh mackerel, which is a fine trip.

Both the Harty and Haskins were in the western fleet and got their fish between Halifax and Beaver. The fish were in large schools and both vessels made only a few sets.

Capt. Lewis reports that he left 20 sail but they were fishing to the eastward of where he got his fish. He reports that ten of the fleet had about 2000 barrels of fish. Among the vessels he saw were schs. Constellation, Lizzie M. Stanley, Victor, Grayling, Emma W. Brown, Helen G. Wells, Slade Gorton, Hattie A. Heckman and Mary F. Curtis, the latter having 150 barrels.

A special to the TIMES from its correspondent at Whitehead, N. S., gives the following seiners at that port on Friday and Saturday and their catches as follows:

- Sch. Lucinda I. Lowell, 75 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Faustina, 100 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Veda M. McKown, 200 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Smuggler, 200 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Golden-Rod, 40 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Kentucky, 200 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Edna Wallace flopper, 212 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Ingomar, 400 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Ralph L. Hall, 150 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Jennie B. Hodgdon, 130 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Patrician, 200 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Lucania, 260 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Agnes E. Downes, 100 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Bertha and Pearl, 250 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Rebecca, 125 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Monitor, 150 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Mattakesett, 160 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Norumbega, 175 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Avalon, 200 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. John S. Presson, 70 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Annie Greenlaw, 210 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Nourmahal, 200 barrels salt mackerel.
- Sch. Vera, no fish.
- Sch. Miranda, no fish.

This accounts for 25 of the 57 sail comprising the Cape Shore fleet and probably comprises the eastern fleet, as there is another part of the fleet to the westward up off Sambro, and some of the latter are known to have made hauls and two of them are at Boston with big fares. It would seem by this that the fleet has not let the fish get ahead of them this year but are on the heads of the schools.

The seining fleet to the southward have evidently struck the fish in good shape, as several fine trips are at Newport this morning as follows:

- Sch. Saladin, 250 barrels fresh mackerel.
- Sch. James and Esther, 70 barrels fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Pinta, 120 barrels fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Leander F. Gould, 140 barrels fresh mackerel.

The following netters are also reported there:

- Sch. Lillian, 10 barrels fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Jennie Gilbert, 6 barrels fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Nellie Doe, 12 barrels fresh mackerel.

Evidently the body of mackerel out south extends over a large territory, as this morning sch. Annie M. Parker, Capt. Joseph E. Graham, which sailed from here only a few days ago, is at New York with 211 barrels of fresh mackerel. The netter Klondike is also there with 300 fresh mackerel in count. The Parker's fish were taken yesterday.

Sch. Speculator was in at a Cape Shore port Saturday with 200 barrels of salt mackerel on board.

Sch. S. F. Maker was at Canso on Friday.

The Dominion Fish Bureau for Friday reports no mackerel at Clark's Harbor, at Lunenburg one boat had 120, fair at Spry Bay, fair at Canso, very plenty at D'Escoisse, fair at L'Ardoise.

The following netters are at New York this morning:

- Sch. Priscilla, 1900 fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Mattie and Lena, 200 fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Blanche F. Irving, 1300 fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Mineola, 500 fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Queen of the Sea, 1100 fresh mackerel.

At Newport yesterday, sch. Natalie B. Nickerson arrived with a fine fare, 250 barrels of fresh mackerel taken off Block Island. This is one of the largest trips landed out south this season. Sch. Seaconnet was also there with 70 barrels of fresh mackerel and the steamer French with 93 barrels. The netter Valkyrie had 500 fish in count and the Dart 700 in count.

Mr. Frank Grant, a well known fisherman, who has been seining for years and who arrived at Boston on the steamer from Baltimore yesterday, brings a report in which much dependence can be placed.

Mr. Grant was seen by a TIMES representative this morning, and said he had just come home from south and was on the Baltimore boat bound to Boston. Knowing that at this time of the year there were generally some seiners out to the southward and fish schooling, he kept a good lookout hoping to see some familiar vessel or some schools of fish. He said that off Navesink, the light bearing north-west by north, they began to come into mackerel and from there up to Shinnecock they ran through mackerel all the way. At one time he counted 11 schools from the deck of the steamer.

On Saturday afternoon, just before dusk they came up with a fleet of seiners working on fish off Shinnecock. Mr. Grant said he recognized one vessel which he thought was sch. Pinta and also saw two round bowed vessels and an old style vessel and several others which he could not make out for sure. The craft which he took to be the Pinta had just made a catch, and by the twine she had on he thought it was a pretty good haul, and one of the round-bowed vessels, to which they passed very close, had also made a haul which to him did not appear to be so big. There were fish there and the fleet were working on them.

As if in confirmation of Mr. Grant's report, the TIMES, within an hour after he had told his story, received a telegram telling of the arrival of sch. Pinta at Newport with 120 barrels, and sch. James and Esther, a round bowed vessel with 70 barrels and schs. Saladin and Leander F. Gould, an old class vessel, with fine fares and also of the arrival of sch. Annie M. Parker at New York with a fine trip.

Mr. Grant is a reliable man and his statement can be taken with assurances of correctness.

TWO HUNDRED BARRELS EACH.

Two Seiners Made Big Hauls Off Sambro on Tuesday.

VICTOR AND MARY E. HARTY.

Sch. Preceptor Also Brings News of Other Catches Made.

Straight from the Cape Shore, Capt. Miles S. Somers, of the shacker Preceptor, which arrived this noon, brings the first mackerel news direct from particular vessels of the seining fleet.

What Capt. Somers has to report confirms the exclusive news in the TIMES of yesterday that a number of the seining fleet made hauls of mackerel off Sambro on Tuesday.

Capt. Somers said that he came up the Cape Shore and met the first seiners off Liscomb and from there all the way up to Sambro, many of the vessels seen between these two points being bound to the eastward.

The captain thinks that these vessels were ahead of the fish, for when he got up to Sambro on Tuesday he found a fleet of the seiners there working on fish, having just struck them that day for the first hauls of the season.

Capt. Somers spoke sch. Victor and Capt. McFarland reported making a 200 barrel haul and also that sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Eben T. Lewis, had also made a 200 barrel haul, sch. Priscilla Smith had taken 50 barrels, and that five or six others of the fleet there had also made hauls at the same time.

MACKEREL AT NEWPORT.

Seiners Ralph E. Eaton and Seaconnet There Today.

A telegram from our regular correspondent at Newport reports the following mackerel seining arrivals there today.

Sch. Ralph E. Eaton, Capt. William McDonald, 40 barrels fresh mackerel.

Sch. Seaconnet, Capt. Enos Nickerson, 10 barrels fresh mackerel.

The netters Lafayette is also there with three barrels fresh mackerel.

Changes in Fresh Fish Prices.

At a meeting of the fisheries committee of the Board of Trade this forenoon, fresh haddock was raised to 95 cts. per cwt., western haddock were made $1.10 and eastern haddock $1.00.

June 6

Good Price for Fresh Mackerel.

The fare of fresh mackerel of sch. Annie M. Parker at New York today is bringing a good price, the fish selling for 18 cts each.

The fresh mackerel of schs. Mary E. Harty and Marguerite Haskins, at Boston today, are selling at 15 1-2 cents each.

June 6

SCH. TACOMA'S BIG RECORD.

Stocked Over $4400 on a Quick Halibut Trip.

CREW SHARED ALMOST $115

More Big Stocks Made by Seiners and Shackers.

Sch. Tacoma, Capt. Adelbert Nickerson, weighed out 70,000 pounds of fresh halibut as the result of her recent 25 days trip to St. Peter's bank. This is the largest halibut trip for a long time, and the stock, $4445, is the largest for a still longer period. The crew made the splendid share of $114.15. Capt. Nickerson is one of the few of the fresh halibut skippers of ten years ago and more who have stuck to that branch of the business steadily and is still at it. He is a thorough fisherman, a man of fine judgment in the halibut fishery, and goes along quietly, always making a fine year's work, and now and then astonishing the public by turning up when least expected, as he did one time about a year ago, when halibut were scarce, and he came up in the harbor one morning with 122,000 pounds of these desirable fish.

Sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Eben T. Lewis, stocked $5257 on her recent Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $121.11. This probably puts the Harty high line of the fleet, and Capt. Lewis will now hustle out south to get on the schools reported out that way.

Capt. William H. Thomas, one of the leading skippers of the coast, wound up his connection with sch. Elmer E. Gray with a trip of 165,000 pounds of fresh fish, which were taken out yesterday and on which a stock of $2500 was made, certainly a mighty fine wind-up.

Sch. Masconomo, Capt. Isaac Merchant, stocked $2196.09 as the result of her very quick Georges halibuting trip, the crew sharing $67.15. Capt. Merchant is making an enviable reputation at this line of the fisheries.

Sch. Agnes, Capt. James A. Goodwin, stocked $2623 on her recent fresh halibut trip, the crew sharing $63.51. Capt. Goodwin has gone back to halibuting, at which he used to do so well and has already landed two fine trips.

The Weekly Dig.

The Fishing Gazette this week has the following:

"So many Gloucester bankers baiting at Cape Breton, N. S. It looks like a boomerang, but wait till caplin school and herring go stale."

The Gazette is like a number of other papers whose sympathies seem to be with Newfoundland, and appears to be doing a whole lot of worrying and borrowing trouble about Gloucester's affairs when that place is going along with its mouth shut and minding its own business. Wonder what will be the next dig.

Good Pollock Trip.

The steamers Water Witch, Mystery and Capt. Marchant's craft came in yesterday afternoon from off here with full trips of pollock.

Another Cargo of Salt Herring.

Sch. William Matheson of Provincetown arrived here yesterday afternoon from the Magdalene Islands with a cargo of 1400 barrels of salt herring, this being the second fare to arrive here this season from there.

FROM CAPE NORTH.

Sch. Onato Brings a Fare Sel-dom Equalled.

Other Shackers Also Arrive with Big Loads of Fish.

The big trips of fresh fish continue to come in, and this morning found three more on the market.

From Cape North, sch. Onato, Capt. Henry Larkin, brings one of the largest fresh and salt fares ever landed. The crew call them 60,000 pounds of salt cod and 140,000 pounds of fresh cod, and think that the whole fare may over-run and go 220,000 pounds. Not for several years has a trip of this size been brought in by a shacker, and the resulting stock will be one of the largest of the season in any line of the fisheries. Capt. Larkin struck big fishing and sailed the catch on his first baiting, and then brought the result of second baiting in fresh. He is one of the leaders of the fresh fishing fleet and this big trip is very pleasing to his many friends.

From the Bay of Fundy grounds the reliable Capt. George Smith has 170,000 pounds of fresh fish this morning in sch. Fanny A. Smith. This is one of his usual fares as everybody expects a big trip when he comes in.

Sch. Olga, Capt. Wildes, arrived this morning from the Cape North grounds with a fine fare of 110,000 pounds of fresh cod and 30,000 pounds of salt fish. Capt. Wildes is a brother of Capt. Horace Wildes of sch. Dictator, and since he took command of a vessel last winter has been doing finely and brought in some big trips.

BIG ADVANCE IN THE PRICE.

Cape Shore Salt Mackerel Bring $11 Per Barrel.

W. H. JORDAN & CO. THE BUYERS

The fares of salt Cape Shore mackerel of schs. Mary E. Harty and Marguerite Haskins of this port, which are at Boston taking out their fresh mackerel and which will come down here this afternoon, sold to William H. Jordan & Co., at the splendid price of $11 per barrel. These are the first trips of Cape Shore mackerel this season, and the price is certainly a most satisfactory one.

Last year the first fares of salt Cape Shore mackerel sold for $9 per barrel so this year there is a gratifying increase of $2 per barrel. The firm of William H. Jordan & Co., has certainly set a fine figure for a starter and as a consequence both vessels will make very big stocks on their fares.
